In my town of York, the demand of some very rich manufacturers for lower rates has been conceded with gratifying upon miles of the substitute of towns of the substitute of the substitute of towns of the substitute of the subst by taking the excessive charges off his and cheap lots than against the propri-bread and fuel. Indeed, if the tariffs etors of those which are more valuaof railway charges be founded in any ble.

of railway charges be founded in any rule at all it is this: That all rates shall be high in inverse proportion to the magnitude of the cargo, and the distance it is carried; the practical effect of which is to grind the face of corporations are a fraud upon their which makes it crooked now, will see the conduction of the corporations are a fraud upon their which makes it crooked now, will see the corporation and discriminating charges of these which affect the whole body of the people and diminish the security of all men's rights at once. The legislative vision, relieved from the moral stratismus ncrease in fatness, makes the discrimination against York at least equal to a dollar and a half on every ton. The quantity consumed in the latter place is something upward of a hundred thousand tons; and the excessive tax upon it all is therefore one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Every cent of this is as wrongfully taken as it it were teloniously stolen. It amounts to many times as much in the aggregate as all the legitimate taxes which the same community pay for the support, of the state, county, schools and alm's houses. Nay, it is more than all the taxes imposed tor those purposes on the whole of the great county in which the town of York is situated. A manufacturer are nothing as an excuse for the inching as an excuse for the enormal dollars of black mall to the reception and the expenses inclient to their mileage, for loading and unloading. Whether the haul be short or long. These terminal expenses includent to the reception of the support, of the state, county in which the town of York is situated. A manufacturer are nothing as an excuse for the enormal dollars of black mall to the expenses of their load of the proportion for short hauls than for the greater service. If this were true, it would be no greater service. If this were true, it would be no greater service. If this were true, it would be no great of all this. Why should not that corporation and the others be made to respect the majesty of justice by an enforcement of the constitution (sec. 5, art. xvii), which, if it leave then what they have already got in violation of law, will at least prevent or punish such outside the such as the carrying. It is in this the way that the Reading company has got the coal market of Philadelphia under the coal market of Philadelphia under its could sell the state out and out. You might as well say that the egislaters when I say that executive and judicial officers who have acted thus during the last ten years ought to be impeached and removed from their places. But this is easier said than citizen and another is worthless. The rights of all the people to be protected against robbery and extortion are presentatives, which should prefer the impeachment, cisely equal, and the legislature cannot barter away one more than the rest; jurisdiction to try it, are tarred nearly of that is to say, a wholesale bargain of all over with the same stick.

The effect of it upon the agricultural interest cannot be ascertained exactly without an investigation, which you can make, and I cannot; but the reasonable probability is that it takes most unjustly from seven to ten cents per bushel from the price of all grain grown in the state and correspondingly reduces the value of all other products.

Then look how it touches the rights and interests of consumers in the great centers of population. Within a circle of one hundred and fifty miles in disance, must be apparent to any one who will consider the nature of the contract, the subject matter of it and the parties to it. Mr. Gowen, free spoken as he is about the sine of his rivals, is raturally reliconk concerning his own. But if he opens his mouth be will tell you the trath; and; unless I am much mistaken. It will be an awful tale of wrong and oppression.

A full inquiry, if it shall ever be instituted, will probably show that nearly all the railroad corporations—the smaller ones following the example of the greater—have violated their charters by engaging "in mining and manufacturing articles for transport to a well as the carrying. It is in this way that the Reading company has got in the six best of the common wealth, and as well as the carrying. It is in this way that the Reading company has got in the six best of the common wealth and in express terms shallow notion still lingers, that an act incorporation is an irrevocable license to defraud and plander whom shall incorporation is an irrevocable license to defraud and plander whom sever the managers please to select as would be void. will at least prevent or punish such outrages in the luture.

The imperious necessity, however, of enforcing the constitution arises out of the depredations which they commit upon all classes everywhere within the state, in what they call their local rates, in what they call their local rates by the plainest process of simple arithmetic that their tariff of rates for carrying goods from place to place within the state is extitled and the registratre cannot be two not the face to deny that their their through rates are high enough to give them all the compensation they can reasonably demand for that part of their service. The trunk lines strugprofitable. Their own competition words of which the sense is too plain statute, the same crime as giving silver reduced it for a while, but they come to be misunderstood-nothing goes by dollars, gold eagles or greenbacks. It bined and raised their charges high inference—no ambignous phrase carries must appear, however, that it was enough to satisfy all of them. It is with it anything to swell the dimen- given to influence the officer or memridicalous to say that this mutual agreement fixed the rates below a fair standard. That is a sort of error which monopolists never commit.

Accepting the almost unanimous testimony of disinterested persons who ought to know whereof they affirm, the just the tolls according to what she, by representatives who receive them conbellef is fully authorized that they have her proper authorities, shall deem a sent to be so influenced. But that does fixed their through rates unreasonably reasonable rule? The sole answer ever not redeem the guilt of the giver, to high; but we will assume that they are only fair. That point being satisfactorily established, it follows, as the day forbidding the company to make any Those great corporate officers and follows the night, that the much higher charge beyond a certain rate per ton their respectable subordinates, who rates which they charge on local per mile, and from this prohibition are concerned directly and indirectly freights are unjust and extortionate, a against taking more they infer the in these practices, are probable ignolipable violation of our rights, a right to take, in spite of the state, any-rant of the existing law. The young trees I put out last spring are doing meely. Nevertheless, we have needed a rain tor the past three weeks. The prairie sod is so hard that it takes a good team to turn it over, and it is now getting late to break sod. Had a good rain fallen three weeks ago, this county would have had ten thousand acres more land in cultivation than it can able cotton, and last year realized about 25 per cent. more per acre than those who raised corn. This year there will be four hundred acres of
